WHAT IS "OPEN SPACE" CONFERENCING?!

Open Space is designed to mimic the natural way people come together and begin to build networks and share ideas. It accesses the knowledge and wisdom found in any group of people and encourages the contribution of any and all "experts" in the room.

There is no pre-set agenda. All that is known is the start and end times and what the general theme might be. Participants themselves identify the issues and topics that are important to them, that they feel passionate about and interested in. Small discussion groups evolve and participants can move from group to group whenever they feel that they are no longer learning or contributing, or even when they feel more interested in another topic.

MORE ON "OPEN SPACE"

There are 4 Guiding Principles to Open Space breakout sessions:

- Whoever comes to the session are the right people.
- Whenever it starts is the right time.
- When it's over, it's over.
- Whatever happens in the only thing that could've.

There is 1 "Law" at Open Space events:

→ The Law of Two Feet

During the course of the gathering, if any person finds themselves in a situation where they are neither contributing or learning, they must use their feet to go to a more productive place. No one's feelings will be hurt and no one's time will be wasted.

Open Space conferences are unfamiliar for most people - and not like most events we attend in the gymnastics world. This is EXACTLY the point. While our competitive coaches get to see each other, build community and swap ideas several times a year at competitions, our recreational community remains isolated. This is our chance as recreational gymnastics directors to build our community, swap ideas and support each other!
